

SOKO

This is the message I imagine a romantic fool of a man would share with his spouse. A song about reminding each other of everything they've ever overcome.

The first feedback I got on this song was from a fellow artist, Eugken. He said, “This song would hit different for people into trading.”

“I promise to never stop teaching, you promise to never stop preaching, hata niuze soko, acha wabinue soko.”

Every couple has a market they've survived together. The good ones talk about it out loud.

REMIND THE PEOPLE YOU LOVE WHAT YOU'VE ALREADY OVERCOME TOGETHER. IT'S PROOF YOU CAN DO IT AGAIN.
